Please note that even though this isn't an actual race, you are advised to still write emergency info and your name on the number in case of an emergency or should the ultimate hazard of dying in the middle of your run occur! You are advised to keep away from built up areas and are advised to maintain 2 metres (6ft) of distance between yourself and anyone else.

If you are taking on technical or long runs then you are advised to wear the correct kit and be responsible for yourself and others whilst doing so. You are advised to use the correct maps and a compass if you know how to use one, particularly if you intend on running on expansive moorland and/or National Parks etc.

TREADMILL RUNNING WILL COUNT. CYCLING WILL NOT! DON'T BE A CYCLE WANKER!

This is not an actual race as such! This is a fun and personal challenge. You will be responsible for picking your own routes/paths/journey and the number of miles on each outing/segment/section of your individual challenge.

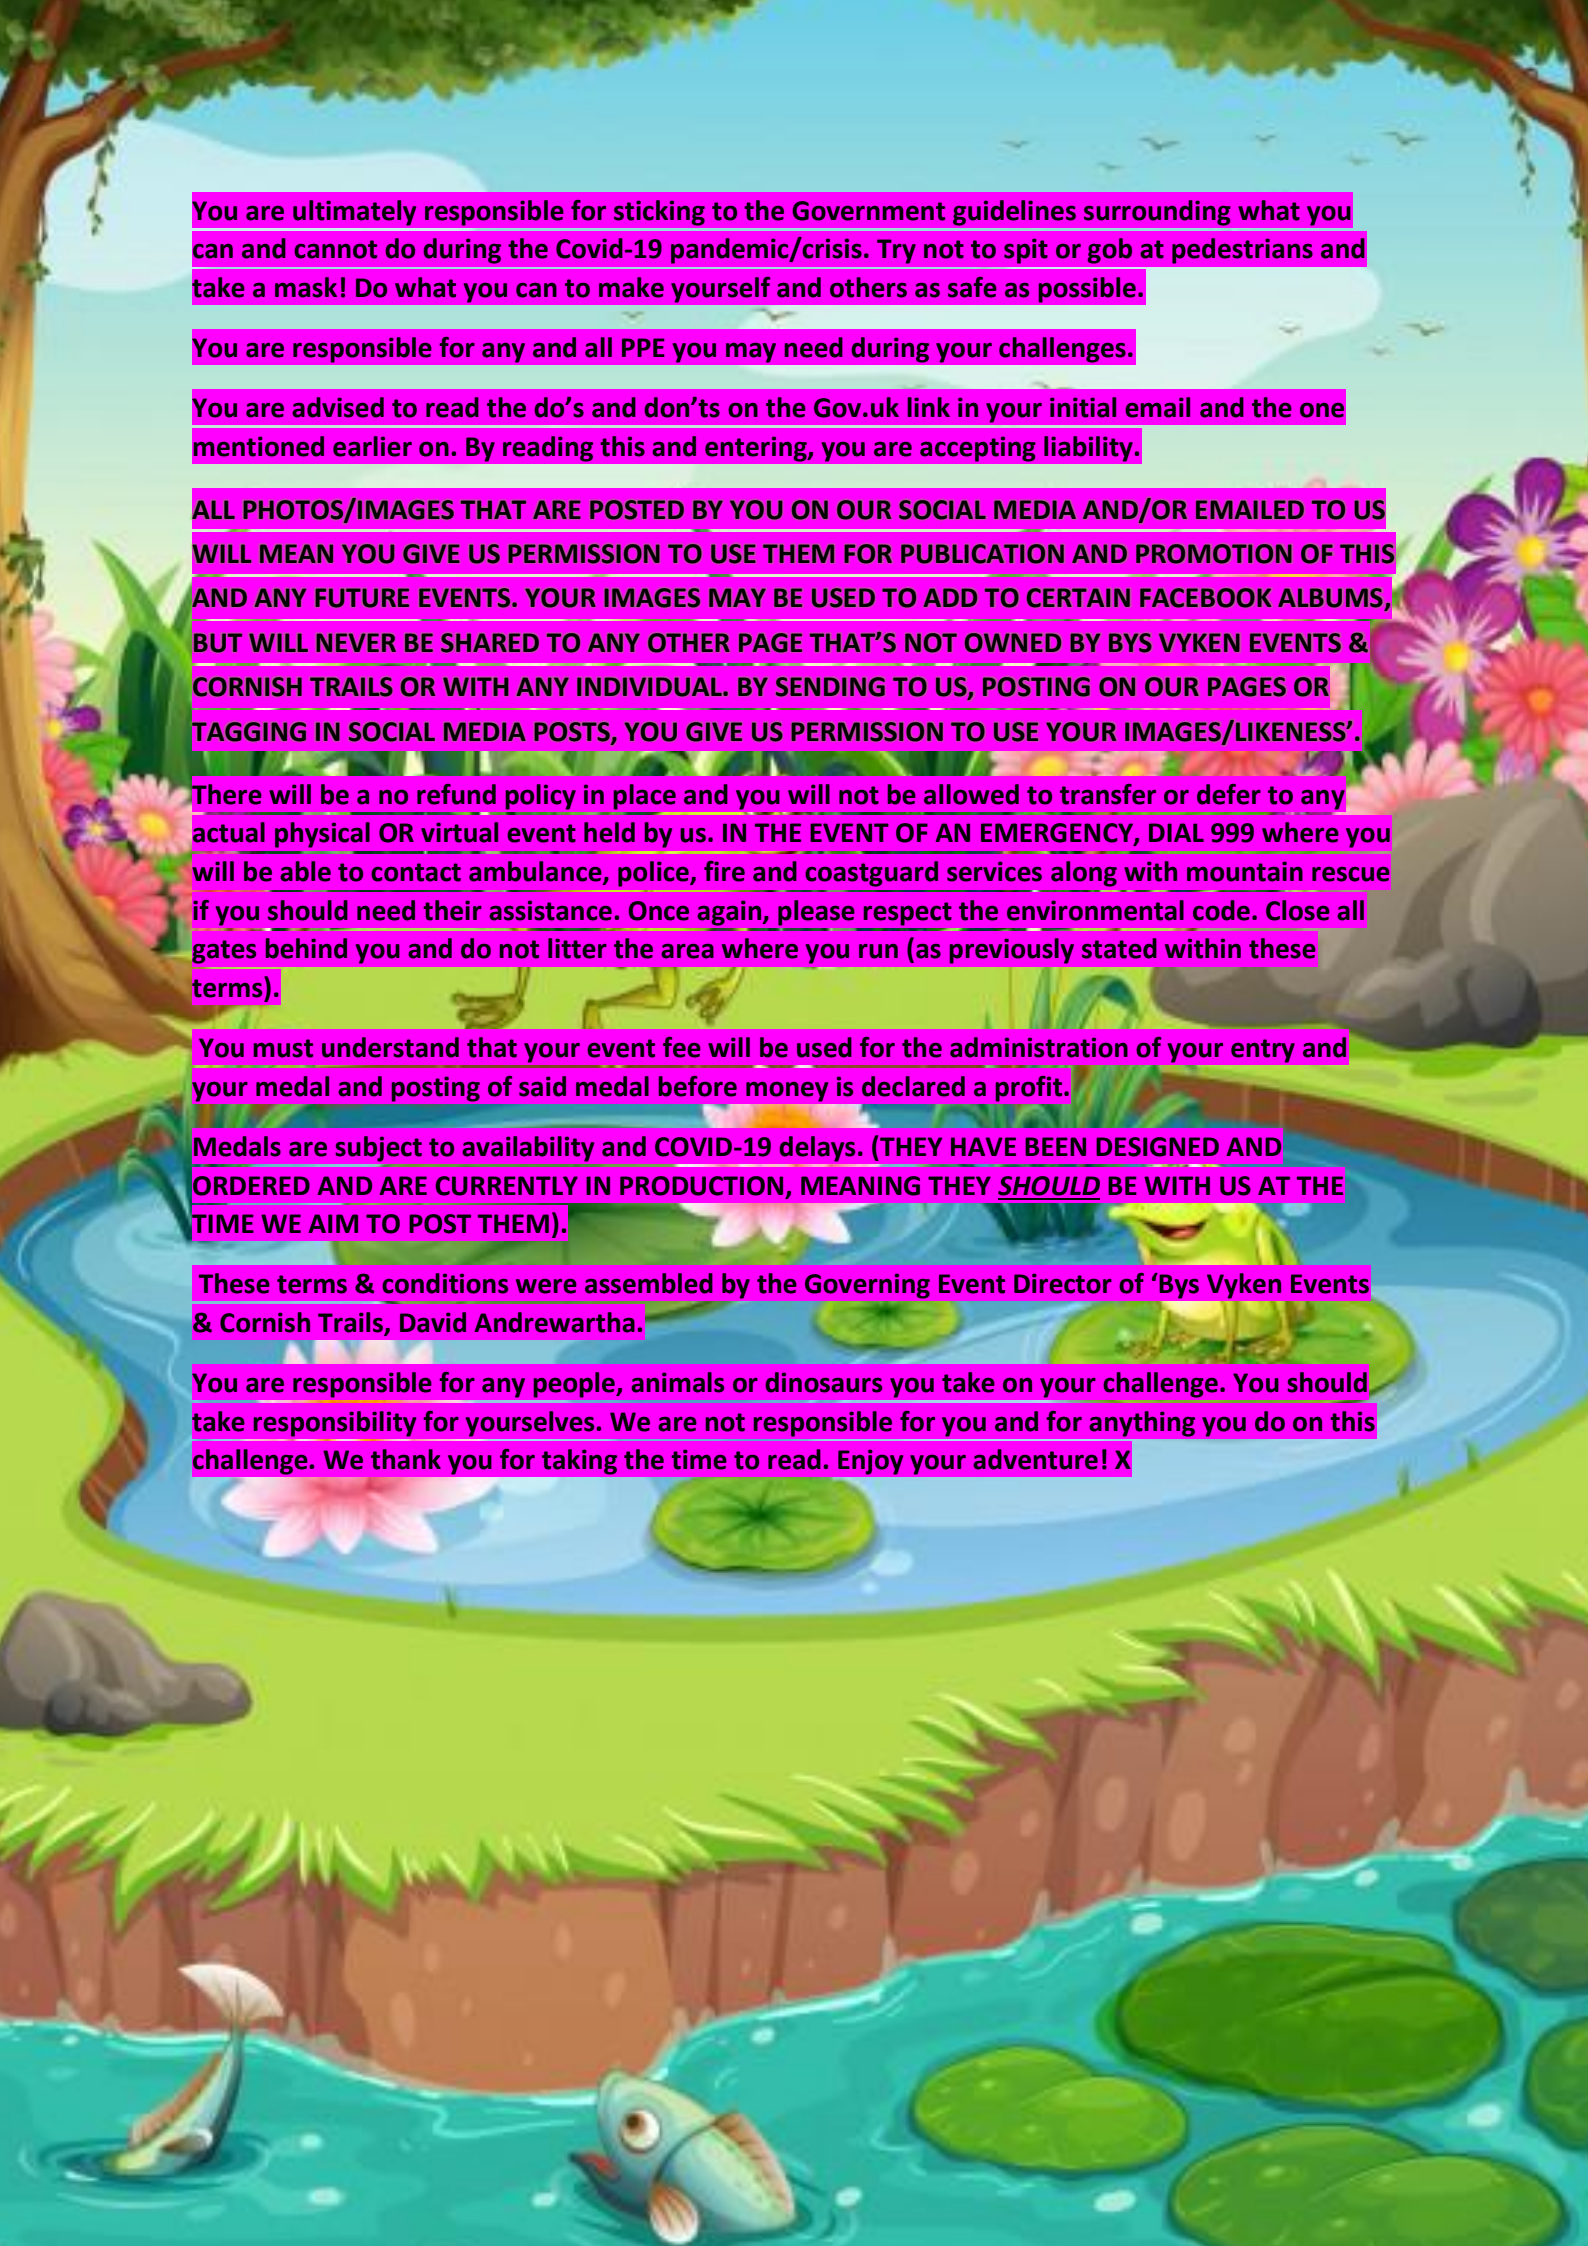

You are advised to keep to public rights of way only and are advised to respect the basic environmental codes of closing ALL gates and not littering on your chosen route.

PLEASE PICK UP ANY SHIT THAT YOU DROP AND TAKE IT HOME WITH YOU!!!

Upon signing up for this challenge and adventure, you are agreeing to all the rules and regulations laid out in these terms and conditions and declare yourself fit, capable and healthy. This challenge is open to all those wishing to walk as well as run. It is not eligible for any other method of transportation.

Not everybody will be running the same route and same sections/segments at the same time or even in the same places. Whatever you run is all relative.

You assume complete responsibility of yourselves and your own environment. Sticking to public rights of way and taking and reading a map is advised and essential in lots of places. It's recommended that you figure out where you're going before leaving the home. You are responsible for yourself and recommend that challengers under the age of 16 should be accompanied by an adult.

You are ultimately responsible for sticking to the Government guidelines surrounding what you can and cannot do during the Covid-19 pandemic/crisis. Try not to spit or gob at pedestrians and take a mask! Do what you can to make yourself and others as safe as possible.

You are responsible for any and all PPE you may need during your challenges.

You are advised to read the do's and don'ts on the Gov.uk link in your initial email and the one mentioned earlier on. By reading this and entering, you are accepting liability.
